NEVADA IN THE CONVENTION.

It is interesting to note that the personnel of the Nevada delegation to the Democratic convention is typical of the majority of the larger state delegations. The sagebrushers appear to know one thing and that is on what side their bread is buttered. It may be a coincidence but nevertheless, it is a fact that every one of the Palmer supporters represents a federal jobholder whose appointment comes from the attorney general's office. For instance there is Mrs. Woodburn whose family has been identified for generations with Democratic officeholders whenever there was a Democratic administration at the White House to bestow a few crumbs of comfort to strengthen the side lines and stir up the ballyhoo when a little noise was needed to stimulate party enthusiasm. Then there is "Johnny" Kunz who carries a portfolio from Washington with latitude of operations and scarcely anything to engage his time. He began as a Cox man but got wise to himself and the drift of administration sentiment soon after reaching San Francisco and switched to Palmer. His employee. It would have been professional suicide for the Goldfield statesman to have done otherwise so there is no hard feeling about changing his vote. He is keen after the meal ticket and nobody will blame him for siding with the Palmer forces. Then there is Anthony Jurich who recently accepted a federal office presumably extended to secure his organizing ability for the Department of Justice, a side bureau of the attorney general's department. If this system obtains in a state with only six votes what can be expected of the big eastern states where thousands of officeholders are doing their best to hang on to fat jobs they have been holding down with plenty of time to spare for their personal affairs? It is a convention of officeholders and the best material that any of the nominating orators could find to enlarge upon was general abuse of the opposing ticket. This certainly is a dry year for the Democracy in more senses than one and the pickings promise to be pretty poor. Already the Democratic party is on the defensive and throughout the stereotyped speeches yesterday there was not a single case where the speakers could lay claim to any originality or acquit themselves of something that had not been worn threadbare through reiteration. Glittering generalities to catch the ear and entrap the unwary form the sum and substance of the eulogies of the candidates and it is painfully conspicuous how cleverly the speakers steer clear of statistics and figures of comparative costs.

SOME MORE LABOR BUNK.

Samuel Gompers is attending the sessions of the committee on resolutions hoping to win recognition that will warrant him in delivering the labor vote. This is not the first time that the so-called labor leader has been guilty of the grossest deception in offering to deliver his followers body and soul to the Democratic party. There cannot be any misgivings about his affiliations for he is so deeply tinged with Anglophobia that he leans over backward when he strives to toe the mark in line with President Wilson's imperial leanings for the covenant of the league of nations. That Mr. Gompers does not represent the body of organized labor is conclusively proven by the action of Republican members of the American Federation of Labor who resent the action of the labor boss in pretending to carry around in his pockets the solid vote of his associated membership. W. E. Hutchinson, president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters, declares that he and other labor leaders are preparing to organize a "Harding Labor League" to show Gompers that he is not running the Federation for the Democratic party. The United Brotherhood of Carpenters is the second largest organization in the federation and consists of a body that believes in the inalienable right of every member to cast his ballot according to the dictates of his own conscience.

The Gompers oligarchy was soundly spanked in the Iowa primaries where they went out to skin Senator Albert B. Cummins alive. But they didn't. They did not get his hide. They didn't get his scalp. They didn't even get a lock of his hair. Senator Cummins swept his state with his primary vote of over 100,000 and a plurality well above 20,000. What Gompers tried to do in Iowa he failed to do in Illinois. He tried to do it in Maine and failed. He tried to do it in Massachusetts and did it so grotesquely that he made Governor Coolidge a figure of national importance. No man can traffic in the labor vote without undermining the constitutional rights of American citizenship and therefore the effort has always resulted in a miserable failure. Gompers is an integral part of the Democratic machinery and the price of his allegiance is the appointment of his son to a highly lucrative office under the Wilson administration. It is that son's job Gompers is fighting for instead of the so-called rights of labor under a free trade administration.

HARDING IN MEXICO.

Senator Harding has his own ideas of how peace should be made and preserved in Mexico, according to a speech he made in Boston long before the Republican convention. The affair was notable for the presence of Governor Coolidge and Senator Lenroot, two other presidential possibilities. "A Republican from any state is good enough to be president of the United States," he remarked in his good humored way, adding "of course, if Coolidge and Lenroot were not here I would call your attention to the availability of Ohio."

During the evening he was asked what he thought of the Mexican situation and met the challenge promptly by saying "I think we ought to have an understanding with Mexico. I don't want to live in a republic that does not protect its citizens. I should think an American president could go to Mexico and say, 'look here neighbor. We are neighbors. Do you want American capital. American genius. American management. American industry. to help you develop your boundless industries? All we want is an understanding about the protection of American lives and property in your republic and then, by the Eternal, you keep that understanding.'"

JAMAICA SUGAR MEN HAPPY

(Correspondence Associated Press) KINGSTON, Jamaica, June 15—

There has never been so much money in Jamaica as now. The sugar and banana planters are fast becoming wealthy and if the present wave of prosperity continues for a few more years the island will have at least a dozen millionaires.

Before the war sugar fetched only $20.00 per ton; today it is bringing $300.00 per ton in the English market. The island's inhabitants are experiencing great difficulty in getting adequate supplies and it is only through the action of the Food Controller that eight per cent of the output is kept for home consumption. The prosperity of sugar planters has led to large sums being invested in the most up-to-date machinery of sugar. Another central factory costing $1,500,000 will shortly be erected in the eastern part of the island.

This year's sugar crop has received a set back owing to a drought lasting about three months. The result is that there will be a shortage in the output.
